

Washington State Community College Consortium for Study Abroad (WCCCSA) FACULTY APPLICATION INFORMATION

WCCCSA seeks enthusiastic and creative faculty who can demonstrate a history of effectiveness in their instructional discipline and the ability to successfully forward student participation and academic progress. Interested instructors need strong interpersonal communication skills and a keen awareness of the realities of providing instruction to US community college students overseas. A strong foundation in intercultural awareness/communication, student development, and cross-cultural adjustment is required to teach on a WCCCSA program.

Faculty applicants are evaluated on the following criteria:

1. Relevance of the proposed course to its respective environment
2. Applicability of proposed courses to general education distribution requirements and courses' appeal to the general students (without pre-requisite preferred, generally no access to lab or studio space on site)
3. Record of college-level teaching excellence with proposed or similar courses
4. Previous international education experience and student service experience
5. Record of collegial cooperation and interdisciplinary instruction

To apply to teach on a WCCCSA program, please complete the application form and submit all supporting documents.

Supporting Documentation

Please attach the following documents to this application:

- A cover letter that addresses your relevant experience.
- A proposal of three, 5-credit classes within your discipline that you have taught before the start of the program you are applying for. For each class, please include the title and course number (at your campus), the department, a brief course description, and an explanation of how you will integrate the location and its cultural venues into the courses.

I have taught the proposed classes before. _____ (Initial)

- Curriculum vitae.
- A letter from your Division Chair/Dean confirming your qualifications and stating your college's support of your participation in a WCCCSA program. The letter should also state that your campus agrees to pay your salary while overseas with WCCCSA.

Please read the following and sign:

"I understand that if I am selected for the WCCCSA program my salary will be paid by the college supporting my participation in this program. I further understand that my college will determine the amount of this payment. I understand that WCCCSA will pay my college a portion of the faculty replacement costs for the term that I am abroad and consequently make no salary payment to me. I also understand that low enrollment in the program could affect how many or if any faculty go and could lead to the cancellation of the program."
